Southern California Edison

-Energy Savings Assistance Program

SoCal Edison has an ongoing program to provide assistance to seniors and to low-income home-owners. The reps may look like a solicitor, but they're not!

Of course, always ask for company identification (call and confirm) before allowing any one you don't know into your home.

They should initially make an appointment to come back to evaluate your home. They may ask some preliminary information as to what heating/cooling systems you have, or if you would like some new "Low Flow" shower heads.

You can call the company to schedule a visit if you think you qualify for some energy saving equipment or home heating/cooling system tune up: this may include new thermostats, replace air filters, recharge your central cooling coolant. If you have a very old furnace, they may even install a new blower motor.

If you qualify, their reps will come into your home and conduct an energy assessment. They will then offer to help make your home more energy efficient by offering rebates on appliances, or they may even provide the actual new appliance, free of charge.

Appliances can include anything from swamp coolers to refrigerators to air conditioners! They may also send someone out to improve your homes weather proofing.
